law? That is the question. Was there any mode, of obtaining a jedicial decision as to his arthursty to remove Mr. Stanton other than by a violation of the law which forbade him to do so? The maxim that the injention is the soll of crime serves but to mark the spilt of the President the more strongly. The question of the constitution permits hout to question the remove that was raised by the President one year ago, in the only form in which the constitution permits hout to question the walliday of any act of legislation, and that was in his was message. In the preparation of that message he had the advice and assistance of his Cabinest and of various outsiders, including Jeremish Black. The President's objections were submitted to the only tribunal to which he is permitted to address an objection to the binding force of any law, and that tribunal, in the manner and form established by the constitution, overwisch his objections, by that decision the President and his Cabinet, and all the control of the control of
